Rugged Cameras – Made in the USA

Most video surveillance security cameras lack the toughness to work on the river. Not ours. The durable construction of our cameras can withstand the harsh sun, drenching rains and bone-rattling winds our inland waterways are known for. Our cameras operate in any location under any and all conditions.

High-Capacity Digital Storage

High-resolution digital video gives great picture quality, and SMART software analytics provide high-speed searching and effortless duplication. Our onsite storage also allows you to review events from previous hours, days or even weeks in a matter of minutes.

Wireless Technology Means Cameras Anywhere You Need Them

Using wireless network links, you can now have cameras in places you never before imagined possible. Each of our installations is built on a private, wireless mesh network so the massive cost of running cable, fiber, or ethernet to a remote location is not a factor. A true money saver.
